To Whom It May Concern:

NNE has been the primary utility contractor for CC Communications since 2003.

NNE has completed many projects (capital or otherwise) for us over the years without complaint. NNE and its crews have always been very flexible and reliable in completing any task. As budgets and deadlines changed NNE always made the necessary adjustments to equipment and personnel to facilitate the completion of the job.

The effects of NNE are far reaching in the success CC Communications has had over the years. Their construction practices and organization are second to none.

NNE is a valuable asset to any organization and CC Communications looks forward to working with them in the future.

Sincerely,

Jay Lingenfelter

Construction Supervisor, CC Communications
